Big Rock

Best Country

Paul Revere

For the first time since Reconstruction the voters elected a Republican mayor in Little Rock — which, for the guys in the Democratic boat, made it a big rock.

Hope citizen noting there's unrest wherever you look in America has a quick answer for it.

He sees civil-rights disputes in the South, industrial trouble in the East, and minority arguments everywhere. To listen to all these complaints you would imagine America is headed for destruction unless a thousand new laws are passed instantly.

But, says my friend: "Is there any country on earth so many people are trying to get into? That means America must be a pretty good country as it is. And it also means a lot of our people don't appreciate what they already have."

This is an oral story — if it's been in print somewhere I at least haven't seen it.

The Texan was up in New England doing a bit of boasting about Lone Star heroes — the fighting, independent, self-sufficient kind they breed in Texas.

His words weighed heavily on his New England host, and the latter finally spoke up: "We, too, have a hero — Paul Revere."

"Hell!" said the Texan — "he was going for help!"

American Legion Plans Armistice Day Observance

Leslie Huddleston Post No. 12, local American Legion organization, will observe Armistice Day, Sunday, Nov. 11, with a special church service, Post Commander Milton Dillard announced today.

The service will be held at the Hope Gospel Tabernacle, on North Main Street, at the regular morning preaching hour. The sermon will be appropriate to the occasion and will be delivered by the Rev. G. W. Hardesty, who is district superintendent of the Arkansas District Council of the Assembly of God.

Commander Dillard in announcing the service urged that all members of the post meet at the church and attend in a body.

"A special invitation is given all World War and Korean veterans, whether members of a veteran's organization or not to join in the service," Dillard said. "In this way a fitting memorial and tribute can be made, through the worship of God, the Supreme Commander, to our buddies who gave their lives that we might have the freedom to worship."

Manganese Plant to Start Operating

Norman, Nov. 7 (AP) — A processing plant for manganese is due to begin operations near here by the end of this week, climaxing a move to develop Arkansas' supply of the ore.

Nicholas G. Baster, mining engineer for Ark-Cal Manganese, Inc., said the firm's new factory would be ready for operations if bad weather does not delay final construction work.

The Arkansas Gazette said today that federal air for the project is under consideration by three federal agencies — the defense minerals procurement administration, defense production administration and the general services administration.

The newspaper quoted a GSA spokesman as saying that agency is considering location of a manganese deposit in Arkansas. However, a defense minerals procurement administration official was quoted: "The discussions are still tentative that the plans are still very nebulous and no early decision is foreseen."

Manganese is found in Arkansas in an area stretching from western Garland county to a point east of Mena, covering about 45 miles. The ore is used primarily to strengthen steel.

Seeks Names of Gamblers

Little Rock, Nov. 7 (AP) — Pulaski Prosecutor Tom Downie has asked Arkansas' senators to help him obtain the names of gamblers who register under the new federal law requiring them to buy a license.

In letters to Senators John L. McClellan and J. William Fulbright, Downie said, "I will appreciate anything your office may be in recommend to Washington officials of the bureau of internal revenue that this information be made available."

He said that the information in the hands of local officials would provide a "double-barreled" attack against commercialized gambling.

Lions' Yule Radio Auction Raises $560

Hope Lions club's first Christmas radio auction was a magnificent success last night when three hours of auctioneering over Radio Station KXAR, from 7 to 10, netted $493.50 for charity. As there were previous donations of $67 the actual total at the conclusion of the party was $560.50.

Of 130 donated items only 50 were sold last night, and the auction will be resumed over KXAR at 7 tonight (Wednesday).

Twelve persons called up during the auction to offer additional merchandise, and late donors who still wish to be represented in the second session tonight may "phone 7-3601, the radio station.

The headline event last night was the auctioning off of Mayor-Elect John L. Wilson, Jr., as a baby sitter. His services had been offered in the auction as a three-hour job — and he was bid in for $25 by Jim James of The Trading Post.

The entire Lions club, headed by President Ben Owen, was at the station throughout last night's party, the entire membership taking turns in running the auction over the microphone.

Wes Ninemire directed the show for KXAR, with Manager L. B. Tooley also in the cast.

It was the first public-participation show of its kind here although a similar pre-Christmas event has been staged annually at Parnsgould. The Lions club scored a tremendous hit. They reported practically the entire city followed the three-hour auction from beginning to end.

Eisenhower Is Sold on More European Arms

Washington, Nov. 7 (AP) — New conferences by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in Europe and some inventory-taking by each of the Western European nations will be needed before the U.S. is ready to translate its broad assurance of a speed-up in arms aid into specific promises on tonnage and percentages.

In his Washington talks with White House, military and defense production officials, informed sources said today, Eisenhower was assured that the flow of arms to the Western European forces would be increased.

But he also was reported to have been told that he should hold an early meeting with W. Averell Harriman, head of the mutual security agency, who left Washington for parts late last week. Moreover it was noted that Defense Production Administrator Manly Fleischmann planned to start for Europe today to talk with defense chiefs of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) nations in Paris and London.

From the findings by Harriman and Fleischmann and the reports by Eisenhower, pieces of the problem can be fitted together — how much each NATO member has now in way of military equipment, how much more it can produce and how fast. Only then can the U. S. be in a position to make specific promises on tonnage and delivery timetables to help get up to 30 divisions fully armed as quickly as possible.

Eisenhower's departure coincided with expressions from official quarters that greater production effort is needed. President Truman spoke of "much trouble," Anna Rosenberg, assistant secretary of defense, told reporters: "The formula of guns and butter is out. It is guns first — then butter, if possible."

Senator Lyndon Johnson (D-Texas), head of an armed services subcommittee watchdogging the mobilization program, said deliveries to NATO forces are substantially behind schedule and assailed production planners.

"Unfortunately, our defense mobilization planners have devoted too much of our productive resources to non-essential civilian goods and too little to vitally necessary armaments," Johnson said.

Eva Peron Is Recovering

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Nov. 7 (UPI) — Eva Peron, wife of the Argentine president, was recovering in President Peron hospital today from a serious operation.

Mrs. Peron was operated on yesterday. A communique last night said she was resting and that her condition was satisfactory. Respiration and pulse were normal, it said.

The nature of the operation was not disclosed. On Sept. 28, it was announced Mrs. Peron was suffering from anemia. She since has had several blood transfusions. She entered the hospital for pre-operative treatment last Saturday.

Tree Planting in Machine Age

Further proof that trees are a crop and tree farming is a form of agriculture is this mechanical tree planter. The machine enables two men to plant as many seedlings in a day as 10 men, working with hand tools, can do. This nearly barren field, in a few years, will yield a cash wood crop. With machines like this, Hemstead county landowners planted nearly 1½ million trees last planting season. There are still many idle acres in the county which could and should be put to work growing trees for tomorrow's industry. Planters will be available again this year at a charge of $5.00 per 1000 trees planted. Interested farmers are urged to contact the Hope Chamber of Commerce or the Soil Conservation Service, for further details.

Negro 4-H Members to Be Awarded

This week, Nov. 3-11 marks a nation-wide celebration of National Achievement Week, a time when 4-H'ers from all parts of the United States, England, Puerto Rico, Japan, Alaska, Australia, Peru, Norway, Sweden, and many other countries, receive recognition for the work they have done.

These children have an enrollment of 2,000,000 boys and girls between the ages of 10-21 years representing 87,000 clubs.

These 4-H'ers have chosen as their motto for 1951, "Working Together For World Understanding." They live up to this motto by sharing with those across the seas, sending needed supplies, exchanging friendly greetings and by visiting each other's homes, helping others to understand.

This does not nearly explain the sum total of activities engaged in during this year, for thousands developed a deeper appreciation of the American way of life by practicing and demonstrating democracy at home in their club and community. Many have worked hard to improve their health and the health conditions of their community.

The projects that these 4-H'ers completed have helped to make their home more attractive and livable, such as: Home Improvement, Food Planning and Preparation, Beautification of Home and Grounds, Clothing, Child Care, and Arts and Crafts. They have helped to cut down on family expense by raising livestock, food crops, poultry, and gardens.

Of this 2,000,000 boys and girls 575 in Hemstead County, have worked hard, gained recognition, and shall be awarded partly during this celebration of National 4-H Achievement Week.

Saturday, Nov. 10, 1951, the Hemstead County 4-H'ers will have their Annual Achievement Day Program at the Bethel A. M. E. Church at 10 a.m. They will receive awards, certificates, and recognition for their work during the year of 1951, it was announced by Hazel Turrentine, assistant Home Demonstration for Negro work.

Right whales were given their name because they do not sink when killed, and thus men of the whaling industry considered them the right whales to hunt.

Council Holds Routine Session

In a routine session last night Hope City Council heard a request from Southern Plywood Corp. for a 10 per cent discount on the plants electrical bill, the discount to be based on the total current running through a master meter at the Southwestern Proving Ground.

The council denied the request and instructed the Water & Light plant manager to continue to bill the plant on the same rates as they would bill the electricity if they were directly connected with Southwestern Gas & Electric Company, less 10 per cent discount on current used when bills are paid on or before the 10th of each month.

An ordinance was passed providing an increase in salary of the city treasurer to $175 per month.

The group voted to have all obstruction removed from an alley running north and south between 11th and 10th Streets, running parallel to Main and Elm. The group also approved a recommendation of the street committee to improve and open an alley between 15th and 14th Streets, running from Main to Walker. A hearing on a petition to close an alley in Block 2, Browns Addition, was postponed until November 13.

Block "R" in Rose Hill Cemetery was opened for sale, and the group dropped its present insurance setup on city employees with Prudential Co. and adopted the Blue Shield plan "D".

It was voted to place the Third and Washington Street red light at Third and Hervey Streets.

PSC Approves Bus Rate Increase

Little Rock, Nov. 7 (AP) — The Arkansas public service commission has approved higher fares for the Capitol Transit Co., operator of the bus system in Little Rock and North Little Rock.

A 13-cent fare — two tokens for a quarter — was approved yesterday by the commission. A five-cent charge for transfers was repealed. The company currently charges a straight dime fare for adults and five cents for school pupils and children under 12. The PSC order made no change in the special five per cent rate.

The PSC said higher fares were necessary because, "we see no way that the company could further economize and stay in business."

Final Plans Made for Openhouse at Telephone Building

Final Plans are being made today for an Open House to give the people of Hope an opportunity to look behind the scenes of their telephone system. P. J. Poe, manager for Southwestern Bell, announced today. Dates of the Open House will be November 5, 9 and 10th.

Special invitations have been sent to Hope citizens, inviting them to tour the telephone building, 320 South Main, during the afternoons and evenings of these dates and see for themselves how the telephone system operates, Poe said.

Hope telephone employees will act as guides to conduct visitors through the building and explain the equipment to them.

In addition, Poe pointed out, special displays will be set up. These will include a model of Alexander Graham Bell's first telephone, a section of coaxial cable to transmit television programs, and a recording machine to enable visitors to hear how their voices sound to others over the telephone.

Hours of the Open House will be from 2 to 5 in the afternoons and 7 to 9 in the evenings.

Circuit Court in Session

Hemstead Circuit Court is in session here today with Judge Dick Hule presiding.

Red Ammons, charged with burglary and grand larceny, entered a plea of not guilty and the court appointed Attorney C. V. Nunn, Jr. to defend him.

In other action the court fined T. S. Cornelius, jurymen, $5 for being late.

Americans Aren't Born With a Smoker's Cough But They Usually Manage to Acquire It

By HAL BOYLE

New York (AP) — So far no American child has been known to enter this world with a smoker's cough.

The average intelligent child isn't born puffing on a cigarette, a pipe, or a cigar.

One reason is that at that age the child isn't sure just which of these cloudy avenues to throat health is the smoothest, mildest, and most flavor satisfying. Some infants have even been known to prefer milk.

But sometimes between the twilight of puberty and the onset of social security the average American, man or woman, takes up the habit-forming weed, in one form or another.

The form in which he does finally embrace tobacco determines the pattern of a great American industry, a business once built on a sniff and a chew and one that now goes up in smoke.

Snuff has become mainly a rural delight. Chewing tobacco is for the rugged individualists who will swallow their pride and stick by their end even though union charlatans refuse to correct their errors at the cuspidor.

But the sniffers and the chawers are in the minority today. The big race for the tobacco dollar is among the puffers — the cigarette, pipe and cigar smokers.

The cigarette smokers lead by far, of course. But the pipe manufacturers, whose sales fell from $33,700,000 in 1948 to $22,500,000 in 1950, are striking back. They want to get their share of the market again.

Spearheading the drive is 37-year-old Morris Levinson, Yale law school honor graduate and president of the Kaywoodie Co., which manufactures about 40 per cent of the pipes sold in America each year.

W. K. Lemley Is Write-in Winner

Unofficial returns in yesterday's general election in Hope showed W. K. Lemley, a write-in candidate, holding a 7 point margin over John P. Vesey for the office of municipal judge. The count was 71 for Lemley and 64 for Vesey.

But the vote is not likely to have stopped court action on the case. There is some question as to the legality of a write-in candidate and the election commission is behind the well known 8 ball. The group will have to decide whether or not to count the votes of a write-in candidate.

In Acts of 1949, page 1003 to 1006, Section 9 — it specifically states that write-in candidates are legal in all elections except primaries. This act 353 passed by the Arkansas Legislature March 21, 1949 repeals all other conflicting laws. It therefore eliminates the 1935 act which barred write-in candidates and left some question as to whether Lemley's name could be barred.

In event the tally is counted by the commissioners, ironically, Judge Lemley could start a 4-year term all over, contending he was officially elected.

This startling development climaxed a long-standing argument between the two, incumbent W. K. Lemley refused to file as a candidate in the summer primaries on the grounds that he was elected for a 4 year term in April 1949, which would give him two more years to serve.

Mr. Vesey filed as a candidate basing his right on Act 307 passed by the last general assembly. His was the only name certified by the Democratic Central Committee as a candidate for the office.

The Central Committee allowed Mr. Vesey to file for office following a discussion of an opinion from the Attorney General's office to H. B. Barr, then head of the group. Shortly after Mr. Barr resigned from the committee as did Mrs. Jim Martindale, another member.

Last week the General Election Commissioners met and another opinion from the Attorney General's office was discussed. This opinion was favorable to Mr. Lemley.

But the commissioners by a 2-1 vote agreed to place Mr. Vesey's name on the ballot. Following this action one member of the commission said the group didn't feel it had the authority to take the position of a court and that as long as Mr. Vesey was certified by the Democratic Central Committee they voted to place his name on the ballot, although the commission was split with J. A. Davis, dissenting, while Dorsey McTear, Jr. and Mrs. Chloia Clitty deciding in favor.

Republican Wins Mayorship at Little Rock

Stalin May Have Lost Control

By WILLIAM L. RYA
AP Foreign News Analyst

Between-the-lines hints from Moscow today suggest that Joseph Stalin has relinquished at least some of the active control of his Soviet dictatorship.

The censored dispatches reporting the celebration of the revolution's 34th anniversary give an impression that new authority has fallen to two men — Georgi Maximilianovich Malenkov and Lavrenty Pavlovich Beria, the power twins of the postwar.

The dispatches give no indication that either Stalin or his old Bolshevik deputy, Vyacheslav M. Molotov, was present at last night's revolution anniversary eve celebration at the Bolshoi theater, the most important gathering of the year for Soviet officialdom.

"The dispatches did not say this directly," they said a "message of greeting" to Stalin was adopted. They listed members of the politburo who were present. Molotov's name was missing.

Stalin of late has gone to a Black Sea resort where Moscow's zero weather begins.

The Soviet press generally lists politburo leaders in the order of their importance, and correspondents in Moscow follow this procedure in their dispatches.

The dispatches headed the politburo list last night with the names of Beria and Malenkov.

In pictures of the May Day celebration pushed in the Soviet press last May, Malenkov was shown at the right hand of Stalin, and Beria next. Molotov occupied the sixth spot in the order of importance at that time.

The order now suggests a politburo of devoted Stalinists.

The subject of Stalin's health is taboo in Russia, but there have been indications that it has been going downhill. He has been absent from many important gatherings since he turned 70 in December, 1949.

Malenkov and Beria are a mighty combination. Malenkov, a protégé of Stalin, controls the communist party apparatus much in the way Stalin himself controlled it in his own rise to power. Beria is head of the vast police system of the world's biggest police state.

If these two men finally assume the full power, it probably will mean a tighter police state than ever. The indications of this are already at hand. Beria's speech last night made many glowing promises and painted a picture of might Soviet predilection advances, but there also was present in unmistakable terms a stern warning to all — Communist party members and ordinary workers alike — that the crackdown was only just beginning.

Lion Entertains Vocational Instructors

Iorace Hubbard, counselor of Hope High School, was a guest Saturday of Lion oil along with thirty other vocational teachers from South Arkansas.

The group was divided up and conducted through the refinery and chemical plant and were guests of Lion oil at a special luncheon. Each phase of the operation of Lion oil was explained in detail by expert guides.

The concluding phase of the program was a panel discussion of the group and personnel officials of the company. The employment procedures of the company were explained in detail and also the industrial relations were stressed which were found to be very good.

The days program was one of several which are being conducted in various industries in South Arkansas to better acquaint the vocational teachers and counselors with the employment opportunities existing in our own state.

Warmer Weather Is Expected

By The Associated Press

The temperature was expected to rise Wednesday in all sections of Arkansas ending an unseasonable cold snap that has gripped the state five days.

Forecasters at the U.S. weather bureau here said that the cold front was leaving the state, and predicted a maximum of 45 degrees for Wednesday. Tuesday's high was 38.

Snow, sleet and rain have plagued Arkansas — especially the north and northwest.

Little Rock, Nov. 7 (AP) — Prait C. Remmel, scion of an old Republican family in Democratic Arkansas, scored one of the surprises in yesterday's general election. He captured the mayorship of this capital city. And with ease, too; better than 2 to 1.

Although the contest between Remmel and his Democratic opponent, incumbent Sam Wassell, wasn't conducted on a party line, the victory moved Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) and Gov. Sid McMath (D-Ark) to speculate on the possibility of it helping promote a two-party system in the one-party South.

Taft, announced candidate for the GOP presidential nomination, now on a speaking tour, commented in Biloxi, Miss.: "I hope that it is indicative of a new trend in the South."

McMath issued a formal statement. He said he hoped it would encourage Republicans in the South to rally their forces under a Republican standard rather than waging their political battles in the disguise of some splinter party.

The young governor blamed Wassell's defeat on "local issues" and wounds left unhealed "after last summer's Democratic city primaries. Wassell was seeking a third term. McMath obviously was interested in the race because he may seek a third term next year."

Remmel's victory was the first success for a Republican candidate for mayor here since 1887, when Col. William G. Whipple was elected on a non-partisan ticket. He was reelected two years later.

Yesterday's contest also was the first time a Republican had challenged Democratic control of the mayor's office in Arkansas since 1925.

Remmel takes the $5,000-a-year job Jan. 1. The term is two years. "The city continues to prosper," he said.

Unofficial, complete returns from 20 boxes gave Remmel 7,704 and Wassell 3,688. The voting was heavy for an off-year election. The weather was cold.

Some Democrats said they voted for a Republican for the first time yesterday.

Remmel is 36, an insurance executive, ex-navy pilot and active in GOP party affairs.

Remmel conducted such an energetic campaign that he was nicknamed for a day by Wassell as "Wassell," who had gone through two hard-fought primaries last summer, didn't bother to campaign until the closing days. Then he appeals for votes were in the form of newspaper advertisements and signs upon Democrats to remain loyal to party nominees.

Remmel became the Republican nominee simply by filing for office. The GOP holds no primary in Arkansas.

Governor McMath allied himself with the Democratic primary campaign, when he filed his statement.

"No election can be taken granted. If we want to win, we have to work and vote. No state and no region, no matter, can be securely Democratic regardless of what pens."

Remmel's victory was a complete surprise but not of his vote was a stunning one. "It exceeded my expectations," he said.

Wassell accepted defeat with humor and conceded that his votes had been counted. He congratulated Remmel, who was waiting turns being tabulated at the house. The mayor-elect said: "You are a fine man. I am sorry it had to be you. It was just my turn. Remmel took a command at the outset and at no time the margin close. He lost three boxes."

The first box to report so-called "courthouse" votes considered a bellwether of the election — gave Remmel 183 to 117. The box, a section of the business district, after Wassell telephone congratulations to Remmel, p. m. pandemonium broke in Remmel's headquarters. Remmel's New Year's Eve.

GOP Mayor to Face Council of Democrats

Little Rock, Nov. 7 (AP) — When Paul Remmel takes office as mayor of Little Rock Jan. 1, he'll face a city council composed of Democrats.

However, six of the 10 aldermen have said they'll cooperate with Remmel. The young (38) mayor-elect is the first member of his party to hold the top office in this city of 101,387 since 1897-99.

He defeated incumbent Sam Wassell in yesterday's general election. Wassell, who won the Democratic nomination in two hand-fought summer primaries, was seeking a third term.

The six aldermen who could be reached for comment pledged their cooperation to the new mayor, and all but one expressed surprise at the outcome.

Alderman Arthur Corley said he wasn't "too surprised" at the Republican victory. Indications of such a trend were evident as much as a week ago, said Corley. He added that he thinks the council will "work with whoever is elected."

Alderman-elect Fred Porris, who takes office for the first time Jan. 1, said he viewed Remmel's landslide with the "will of the people," adding:

"Insofar as I am concerned there will be complete co-operation with the new mayor."

Councilman Lee Evans, a veteran of city politics, declared that "a lot of good Democrats must have voted for the new mayor."

"I will co-operate with Remmel as long as I think he is right," said Evans.

James A. Criffey, Fourth Ward alderman who led a last minute Democratic effort to get out the vote of the faithful, said, "It shall be my purpose to co-operate with Mr. Remmel to the same extent that I have co-operated with the incumbent."

Councilmen Arthur Spatz and J. W. Horner added that they, too, were sure that the council would work with the mayor-elect with little friction.

The successful Republican bid for a place on the Little Rock political scene followed a ward-by-ward, fired up campaign that once put Remmel in bed on a doctor's orders. But the youthful insurance executive hit the stump again the next day, appearing at a rally that night.

Democratic leaders, particularly Wassell, viewed the Remmel campaign with indifference until the last few days. Wassell campaign until Remmel got "a good head of steam."

But the Democrats apparently saw the handwriting on the wall in Neon lights late yesterday afternoon. Party leaders, frightened by the heavy turnout in Remmel's home ward and the youth of many voters, called on the state for aid Governor McMath obliged. Out poured employees from state offices to end their ballots. The most noticeable delegation was from the state hospital. They trooped down the hill to the poll at a nearby fire station.

There was time off for state employees who needed it, and who were available to carry them to the polls, said the Arkansas Gazette.

Griffey had called a meeting of county party leaders Monday night. All pledged their support to Wassell and called on all Democrats to vote for the party nominee.

Remmel declined to comment "at this time" on his plans for administrative changes at city hall.

"My first step before I take office will be to start immediately through a citizens' committee, a move to build a community center in one ward," he said. "I will let the aldermen draw straws to see which ward will have the first building. After I take office I will work for one building in each ward. None will be built with tax money or public funds."

At least one voter tested a Democratic leader's joking advice to "go early and vote often." John Lofton, associate editor of the Gazette, said in a front page story this morning that he "voted" three times — once in Precinct E, once in Precinct C and once in Precinct B of Ward 1.

Lofton said he was handed a ballot in each precinct when he displayed his poll tax receipt. He said he was not challenged or questioned by election officials. He dropped unmarked ballots in two of the three boxes, he reported.

Curley Loses Out in Boston

Boston, Nov. 7 (AP) — Former Mayor James Michael Curley, one of the nation's most colorful big city political bosses and one of the last, was ready to call it quits today after he was defeated for the mayoralty.

Voters in this historic city rejected the comeback attempt of the 77-year-old campaigner. They had elected mayor four times before, once while he was under a federal indictment.

Mayor John H.ynes, 53, who started out as a clerk at city hall under Curley, won re-election handily yesterday.

The "old man" sang his swan song with a smile and typical wheedle.

"There would be no hope for the future generations if I went on forever."

Only Curley's family and a handful of close friends and newspapermen were with the former mayor, former congressman and former governor as he heard the final returns that wounded the end of a political career that has carried over a half century.

The defeated candidate declared: "You need a stout heart in politics. You must accept victory or defeat and they'll both come sooner or later. Very few have survived for half a century. I don't know anyone except myself who has. So that's something."

During his half-century of public life Curley has gone to jail twice — once as a young man when he took a civil service examination for someone else, and in 1918 for fraud in connection with war contracts.

the stroke of 12.

Remmel quipped: "I do have some friends in Little Rock. I won't have to come down tomorrow equipped with firearms, after all."

The mayor-elect is a native of Little Rock and a graduate of the University of Virginia. His wife, Catherine, is a daughter of the late Harvey C. Couch, founder of the Arkansas Power & Light company. The Remmels have three children — Cathie, 10; Pratt, 5 and Rebecca, two.

Remmel's father, Gus Remmel, was state Republican chairman at the time of his death in 1923. His great-uncle, Col. H. L. Remmel, was a member of the GOP national committee until his death in 1927 and held political appointments. His mother is Republican national committeewoman for Arkansas.

Gus Remmel is credited with heading the breach between William Howard Taft and Theodore Roosevelt. Taft visited Remmel here in 1918 and was persuaded to telegraph "TR" to his bid to a reconciliation.

Indians of Tulos Santos, isolated highland village of Guatemala, wear red and white striped trousers and blue jackets.

Incumbent mayors who won re-election in contests included:

Jack Porter of Forrest City. He beat Rodgers Deardre, 661 to 499.

Joe Wilcoxson of Paragould. He turned back Marcus Morrow, 1,008 to 799.

S. Harney Chaney of Batesville.

He trimmed Caldwell Bennett, 822 to 453.

W. S. Glasgow of Redfield, he defeated John Hopper.

Albert Middleton of Mena. He defeated C. A. Cummings, 612 to 393.

Edgar B. Parker of Conway. He didn't have any opposition on the ballot but Lee W. Reynolds turned up with 94 write-in votes to Parker's 274. Gen. H. L. McAllister also received two write-in votes.

Parker charged that the GOP was behind the unexpected contest and challenged validity of the write-in votes.

There were a number of mayors defeated without contest. They included:

Robert L. Vogt of Rogers; Floyd Dinsley of Hot Springs; Ben F. Butler of Osceola; A. C. Neel of El Dorado; Ross L. Lawhorn of North Little Rock; Dr. H. V. Glenn of Stuttgart and B. R. McCarley of Texarkana. It was

third term. Chaney also was named to a third term. So were Middleton and Vogt.

New mayors elected in contests included:

Crosslett: C. F. Tatum, retired merchant. He had no opposition on the ballot, but was challenged in an unsuccessful write-in contest.

Candlen: Walter Laney, nephew of former Gov. Ben Laney. He defeated Alderman Charles Mosley, 1,350 to 843.

Horatio: W. L. Owens, town recorder and sawmill worker. He defeated former Mayor Buster Smith, 99 to 30.

Springdale: A. R. Sharp. He defeated Irving Kitts, 378 to 356.

Among new mayors elected without contest were:

Russell: Horne of Russellville; L. L. Pate of Malvern; Loy Green of Lead Hill and W. B. Fordyce of West Memphis.

The voting at Lead Hill, after a controversy over whether the election should be held at the new or old townsite, was held by direction of Sheriff Roy L. Johnson of Boone county, at the new townsite. The mayor and five aldermen were unopposed on the ballot, but one alderman was defeated by a write-in candidate. Otherwise, the 31 local votes were cast without incident.

ions in Arkansas. There was one notable casualty.

Powell Rhea, retired admiral seeking his second term as mayor of Fayetteville and unopposed on the ballot, was upset by a write-in candidate, Arthur B. Davidson, who won by six votes.

A write-in candidate, Tom Austin, defeated F. W. Kellings for alderman at Lead Hill, near East Shreveport.

Write-in campaigns were tried at Conway and Crossett, but were unsuccessful, although the one at Conway created a campaign.

Incumbent mayors also were defeated in Little Rock, Fayetteville, Marmaduke and Luxora.

Off-year elections were held in first class cities and incorporated places not eligible municipalities all held elections.

The cold weather, plus snow in some places, and lack of contests, held the vote down in many cities and towns. In other places, the vote was heavy. Little Rock and Conway both reported the largest turnouts in years.

First class cities elected mayors and one-half of their aldermen, city clerks and city attorneys. Incorporated places elected a complete slate.

First class cities elect the other half of their city official slate next year — when second class cities also hold elections.

The mayoralty contest at Little Rock was an upset because Sam Wassell, Democrat trying for a Republican, Pratt C. Remmel. This is the first time such a thing has happened in the capital city in 64 years.

At Fayetteville, Mayor Doyle Henderson was unopposed by Alderman Dan Blodgett 1,419 to 1,117. At Luxora, Moses Shiman defeated Dr. E. R. Bogan, 223 to 162. At Marmaduke, Floyd Locke defeated A. N. Gooding, 97 to 76.

The vote at Fayetteville was 99 to 84. The tight turnout was attributed to cold weather and no contests — on the ballot.

Incumbent mayors who won re-election in contests included:

Jack Porter of Forrest City. He beat Rodgers Deardre, 661 to 499.

Joe Wilcoxson of Paragould. He turned back Marcus Morrow, 1,008 to 799.

S. Harney Chaney of Batesville.

He trimmed Caldwell Bennett, 822 to 453.

W. S. Glasgow of Redfield, he defeated John Hopper.

Albert Middleton of Mena. He defeated C. A. Cummings, 612 to 393.

Edgar B. Parker of Conway. He didn't have any opposition on the ballot but Lee W. Reynolds turned up with 94 write-in votes to Parker's 274. Gen. H. L. McAllister also received two write-in votes.

Parker charged that the GOP was behind the unexpected contest and challenged validity of the write-in votes.

There were a number of mayors defeated without contest. They included:

Robert L. Vogt of Rogers; Floyd Dinsley of Hot Springs; Ben F. Butler of Osceola; A. C. Neel of El Dorado; Ross L. Lawhorn of North Little Rock; Dr. H. V. Glenn of Stuttgart and B. R. McCarley of Texarkana. It was

third term. Chaney also was named to a third term. So were Middleton and Vogt.

New mayors elected in contests included:

Mayor Since 1922 Is Re-elected

Jonesboro, Nov. 7 (AP) — Herbert J. Bosler, who's been mayor here since 1921 except for two-year intervals, was elected to another term yesterday.

Bosler polled 184 votes to 1126 for Herbert Sanderson, who also was runner-up in 1949. Alderman Hank Berry Jr. got 178 votes and Alderman H. R. Cook 161 votes in the four-man race.

The vote total set a record for Jonesboro municipal election, exceeding by more than 100 ballots the previous record established in 1949.

Bosler was defeated for mayor in 1927, but won the office back in 1929. Twenty years later he was "out" by defeat for another two years, 1948-49.

When he takes office for a new term on Jan. 1, 1952, he'll get a pay raise. The city council recently increased the mayor's salary from $380 to $430 monthly.

Better performance 4 ways with DODGE 2-TON "Job-Rated" TRUCKS

1 MORE ECONOMICAL POWER

A big, high-compression 236.6-cu.-in. engine developing 100 h.p. You get the right engine for top economy with aluminum pistons, four piston rings (top ring chrome-plated), exhaust valve seat inserts and other extra values.

2 SPEEDIER DELIVERIES

Five-speed transmissions, 2-speed rear axles, and choice of axle ratios give you greater pulling power, faster getaways and higher top speeds. Low loading height and hinged stake center sections help you to save work and time.

3 EASIER HANDLING

You can turn sharper, maneuver better and park easier with a Dodge 2-ton "Job-Rated" truck... because you get wide front ends, cross-steering (except G.O.B. models), short wheelbases and worm-and-gear steering gears.

4 BIGGER PAYLOADS

In Dodge 2-ton "Job-Rated" trucks you can move extra-big payloads without overloading. That's because a lot more of your load is carried on the front axle. Deep, rugged frame and oil-seal body stakes and sills mean extra strength.

THIS 2-TON CHASSIS is engineered to fit your body needs. On wheelbases of 128", 152", 170", and 192", it will accommodate a wide variety of bodies, from 8 ft. to 18½ ft. in length.

Dodge 1½-ton "Job-Rated" trucks provide similar features and advantages to give you better performance on your job.

"Prepare NOW for winter driving..."

The best first step in getting your car ready for the cold weather ahead is a change now to heavy duty Esso Extra Motor Oil. It cleans as it lubricates. Flows fast in cold weather to help protect every engine part. Holds its lubricating body at high engine speeds to keep oil consumption down. For complete engine protection, for fine engine performance, change to Esso Extra Motor Oil today.

Florida Set for President

Key West, Fla., Nov. 7 (AP) — Everything is ready for the arrival tomorrow of President Truman on his tenth working vacation in four years. The little White House, a rambling two-story frame building on the Key West naval station, is spic and span. The presidential yacht Williamsburg arrived from Washington and is moored at the naval station. Distinguished visitors often live aboard the yacht while here for conferences with the President. Lawns and shrubs have been neatly trimmed and coconuts removed from trees to prevent accidents. The southernmost city in the United States is planning its usual warm welcome. The President is scheduled to arrive at Boca Chica naval air station by plane from Washington. He will be here several weeks. No date for his return has been announced.

New Medicine May Replace Blood Plasma

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 7 (AP) — A patent new blood medicine that may replace plasma in some uses was reported today to the National Academy of Sciences.

It comes from part of human blood. It is rich in chemicals that are especially valuable in fighting shock or treating burns.

An amazing new machine makes this medicine automatically out of whole blood. It actually makes and packages half a dozen or more medicines while a pint of blood is flowing into it from a blood donor's veins.

These new developments in blood were announced by Dr. Edwin J. Cohn, noted Harvard university blood chemist, and Drs. James L. Tullis, Douglas M. Surgeon, William H. Batchelor and Maurice D'hont.

The new medicine is called S.P.P.S. — stable plasma protein solution.

The scientists said it is expected to replace plasma and serum albumin, an anti-shock medicine now obtained from blood, as an emergency medicine or for stockpiling against the threat of war wounds and atomic-bomb casualties.

The S.P.P.S. has more of certain normal blood proteins than serum albumin, they said. Also, it can be preserved just as long.

A secret of producing it is new chemicals methods, using certain metals break blood into its parts but keep them in their normal state.

The new machine does the whole job. It is portable, so it can be taken to any location in emergency for persons to donate blood. From it come the various blood medicines that can be preserved so that victims of sickness or injury can be given any or all of the blood medicines they need.

The machine takes out calcium, to prevent clotting of the fresh blood. It removes and saves the platelets, the blood cells involved in forming blood clots, so that they can be used as a separate medicine.

It takes out red and white cells and packages them separately in plastic bags. Both have medical uses. It takes out other blood clotting substances, prothrombin and fibrinogen.

It takes out and packages in bags the proteins called gamma globulins. These carry antibodies against disease, and are used against measles and perhaps other diseases.

In another step, the machine produces the S.P.P.S., using a centrifuge, or whirling device.

The machine also can make separate medicines out of outdated blood — whole blood which has been kept beyond the present safety limit of about three weeks.

No bottle is used to collect the blood. Instead, it flows right into the machine.

218 Deaths Attributed to Weather

Chicago, Nov. 7 — (UP) — The center of the nation was smothered under a blanket of snow today. Chicago was choked almost to a halt by nine inches of snow — an estimated 16,300,000 tons. The weather bureau predicted it would reach 12 inches before it stopped. St. Louis already was over the one-foot mark and it was still snowing.

The storm — worst in history ever to hit this section of the nation so early in the fall — stretched from the Great Lakes all the way to Oklahoma.

Transportation of all sorts slowed to a crawl or stopped completely. The death toll mounted, particularly in traffic accidents as motorists, blinded by the snow and driving wind, slipped and skidded on icy, snow-blocked streets and highways.

Fatalities since the start of the cold wave climbed to 218, with 100 of these in traffic accidents.

Factories closed, power lines snapped and roofs collapsed under the weight of the snow and hundreds of cars were abandoned.

A 50-mile section of U. S. highway 61-67 south of St. Louis was closed to all traffic. More than 300 cars were stalled on the snow-covered stretch of road.

The St. Louis snowfall was the worst on record for a Nov. 6 and the deepest there in 39 years. Six persons froze to death in St. Louis during the storm.

One man was dead and eight others were in serious condition after they waited more than an hour in near-freezing temperatures near Marshall, Mo., after a bus-car crash on the ice-coated highway.

Trains at St. Louis were three hours late.

Air traffic at the Lambert-St. Louis municipal airport was reduced from normal 600 flights a day to only 22.

The storm forced the Ford-Incoln Mercury to close, idling 1,700 workers. Another 1,700 were sent home from the Chevrolet plant.

An air force plane bucked its way through the worst of the snow storm to fly four-month-old Patricia Boies from San Antonio, Tex., to Chicago for an emergency heart operation.

A Chicago fire department ambulance met the plane at Midway airport during the height of the storm and the child's supply of oxygen ran low as the ambulance crept through the blocked streets. The child finally reached the

DOROTHY DIX Family Unity

Dear Miss Dix: I am a married man with two sons and two daughters. For the last three years my wife has refused to take family expeditions on Sunday although I have repeatedly asked and often even argued with her about it. She gives as reasons for her refusal the fact that the children must have their sleep, and in their own beds. Lately she claims she has the youngsters all week and wishes to go out on Sunday without them. Her attitude has made me very cool toward her and she cannot see any reason for my actions. When I see others enjoy their children by going out as a family it makes me very downhearted.

H. S.

Answer: Seldom do I get a problem of this nature with the mother as culprit, usually it is the father who refuses to take his family out.

When sayings forgetful to discuss the ill of the world, they ascribe the failings of today's youth to all sorts of sources — political, psychological and psychological.

Never does it occur to them that practically all tales of juvenile delinquency could be wiped off the front pages if the spirit of family unity could be revived. A suggestion that a family might gather together occasionally for an evening of games or singing would be greeted in most circles with looks of derision. The popular idea today is for the family to scatter in as many different directions as possible as soon as dinner is finished — provided, of course, they were all together at dinner.

A famous cleric says that the family who prays together stays together. The simple act of prayer provides the nucleus for a unity that nothing in the future will ever disrupt. Play or work done together is a further bond to preserve families ties.

of Mrs. H. S. think of home merely as a place to get away from, then mother will bewail the fact that she is left alone. Yet she does nothing to establish a family consciousness on Sunday, the one day when father's chores permit him to enjoy the youngsters. A disrupted routine is nothing compared to the benefits derived from a day spent together in mutual pleasure.

Mother should get her time out along some other day or evening during the week and devote Sunday to the projects her husband suggests. Her attitude towards the children certainly should not be one of patient resignation to an income job. Youngsters no matter how frigid they become at times, are a pleasure and should be enjoyed by their parents, not tolerated.

The days of childhood are all too fleeting and parental regrets at later in life cannot bring back one of them.

When you suggest these Sunday outings, H. S. do you offer to help with their preparation? Don't leave everything to your wife. Let her get out for an evening at the movies during the week and lend whatever assistance you can with the children. Be sure you make the expeditions a pleasure, not an extra source of work. Also, be sure the activity you plan appeals to her. With a little effort the sun can make her look forward to Sunday with the family.

Dear Miss Dix: I am a young girl of 24 and very much interested in joining the Marine Corp. The only thing that is stopping me right now is that I do not have a high school diploma. After I left school I went to night school. Any information you can give will be appreciated.

M. M.

Answer: See the local recruiting office for the Marines in your city. Your situation probably isn't hopeless. The work you did at night school might give you the necessary credits; if not, you will be directed to the courses that will complete your education to the required minimum. The women's branches of the armed service offer a splendid career for girls. Besides the service you will be doing your country, there are personal advantages, such as the opportunity to continue your education and acquire professional training.

Dear Miss Dix: I have a daughter who has been married eleven years. Until recently I have been very friendly with her husband. Although he has often hurt my feelings, I have forgiven him. Now when I visit them in the evening, he doesn't even greet me. Should I continue visiting when he is at home or go during the day?

Answer: By all means make your visits in the daytime if it can be conveniently arranged. A man who is an unreasonable creature and best left to his own devices.

U. S. Proposal on Arms Count Is Valuable

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Nov. 6 (AP) — This country and Russia are supposed to get along with peace proposals in the next day or so — proposals of disarmament.

But President Truman, who's going to talk on the subject Wednesday night, apparently doesn't expect much to come of it before he starts.

In a message Monday to the UNO convention in New York he said we'll have to continue arming ourselves and Europe for a long time.

"It will be our great national objective for the years ahead," he said.

And the news from Paris doesn't sound hopeful that the Russians and the West will agree on each

Jap War Criminals to Be Paroled

Tokyo, Nov. 6 (AP) — Nineteen Japanese war criminals will be paroled from Tokyo's Sugamo prison, Nov. 9, occupation authorities are announced today. This will bring to 411 the number of prisoners permitted to serve part of their sentences outside prison.

The latest group includes a number of army and navy officers, some former civilian guards, and Kenzo Yano, 54, former civilian governor of Sumatra's western coast.

Argentine Ship Held for Damages

Buenos Aires, Nov. 6 (AP) — The Argentine tanker, Juan Peron, held by federal officers here today in lieu of bond to cover damage caused to the Magdalena Oil Terminal docks.

The 22,000-ton vessel, one of the world's largest tankers, is on a maiden voyage.

U. S. Deputy Maritime Earl D. Brown and James R. Connelley, the 846-foot craft, damaged dock pilings at the oil terminal, south of here, while picking up a cargo of oil.

Ship's officers expected to post bond today.

Married Men to Get January Calls

Little Rock, Nov. 6 (AP) — Married men will make up most of Arkansas' January draft call.

This was announced yesterday by Maj. Carl Wells, chief of the manpower division of the state selective service headquarters. Maj. Wells said most of the 500 men called to fill a 300-man quota in January will be married men with no children.

Jazz Musicians to Tour Far East

Tokyo, Nov. 6 (AP) — Jazz fans among American troops in the Far East are due for a treat.

A group of top-ranking jazz musicians will leave the U. S. this week for a 10-week tour of the Orient, general headquarters official service announced today.

Troops will hear first-hand such musicians as Bass virtuoso Oscar Pettiford, Trumpeter Howard McGhee, Trombonist J. J. Johnson, Saxophonist Rudy Williams, Guitarist Clifford Best and Rhythmic Charlie Rice.

other's plans.

The United Nations assembly meets in Paris this week and both sides are expected to offer a peace plan.

But stories from Paris say the new U. S. proposal will be valuable primarily for propaganda purposes, that it might throw the Russians on the defensive.

When I hear the word "propaganda" — that some nation, including our own, has done something for propaganda purposes, I ask myself:

At whom are the diplomats aiming their propaganda; at other diplomats or the ordinary people of the world?

Diplomats make a career of exchanging common in diplomatic speeches and exchanges; they use microscopes on the main points, and they are getting paid to remember them. That's their business.

But I believe the diplomats, on their own included, hid themselves over the effect they think their propaganda has on the ordinary people of the world who don't have microscopes or time for counting diplomatic commas.

The non-diplomats of the earth have a lot of other things on their mind. On the day they read about the peace proposals, they'll be reading about a lot of other things.

They'll try — most of them, I think — to remember in a general way what they read. They don't have the time, because they have to make a living doing something else, to memorize and analyze all the details of a diplomatic proposal.

And as time goes on much of what they read get blurred in their mind, as to detail. And the diplomats make the blur worse by their haggling and clouding of the issue.

For example, I wonder just how many people in this well-armed country can remember: (1) The details of the plan we proposed a few years for control of atomic weapons; and (2) why nothing came of it.

Now, the Paris stories say, the U. S. will suggest a new method of atomic control, all part of a general disarmament plan, but that it probably will be unacceptable to the Russians.

In a few weeks, when the Russians have offered some plan of their own and criticized ours and we've criticized theirs, I wonder just how many non-diplomats will be able to fit the pieces together to tell who's right.

And it's by that time they're too confused to know where the truth lies or why previously the plan came to nothing, what effect it had on the propaganda have had on them except to make them more frustrated and irritated?

DISHARMONY IN TRUMAN'S CHURCH — All was harmonious between President Truman and his pastor, the Rev. Dr. Edward Thomas Prudden, right as they walked together after services at Washington's First Baptist Church a while ago. But now Dr. Prudden is a leader among those who strongly deplore the President's move to make Gen. Mark Clark ambassador to the Vatican. The minister declared: "I did my utmost to point out the dangers which seemed to me to lie in such an arrangement."

Millionaire Dies Trying to Rescue Wife

Casablanca, Nov. 7 (AP) — Stunned by the death of his wife, a millionaire society sportsman, Freddy McEvoy, ex-husband of actress Errol Flynn, died today in a vain attempt to rescue her from drowning.

McEvoy, his French wife, Claire, and four others perished yesterday when his yacht "Kantares" was driven on the rocks about 100 yards offshore in a violent storm 100 miles south of Casablanca.

Three members of the yacht crew swam to safety.

The 43-year-old sportsman and international society figure was swimming through 20-foot high seas only six feet from shore, the survivors said, when he turned back to aid his wife some distance behind.

As he reached her, his strength failed and both sank.

They died after 14 hours of terror, 12 of them in darkness aboard the wrecked yacht, which had turned on its side and was breaking up.

Two French sailors were swept overboard. A Spanish sailor threw himself into the sea and sank. Mrs. McEvoy's French maid, lashed to the mast, was torn loose by the wind and carried away.

The yacht, on a cruise from Cannes to the Bahamas, was trying to enter the port of Safi but was kept out by blinding sand clouds.

It ran aground Monday a few miles north of Cap Canton. Shortly after noon and turned on its side.

In mid-afternoon the storm hit and the battered survivors aboard the wreck, clinging desperately to ropes, could see the Moroccan coast 100 yards away. Two automobiles, passed, but the survivors' screams for help were not heard.

Several years ago McEvoy was listed as one of the suitors of Woodworth heiress Barbara Hutton.

McEvoy and his 30-year-old third wife were best man and mother of honor last year at the marriage of Errol Flynn to Aileen.

Patrice Wynne, in Monte Carlo, McEvoy and Flynn had been friendly yachting rivals for years. In 1944 McEvoy was a star witness for Flynn in the actor's trial in Los Angeles on charges involving alleged attacks on three girls. Flynn was acquitted.

Nobody Hurt in Suez Gunfire

Cairo, Egypt, Nov. 6 (AP) — Egyptian civilians and British soldiers fired on each other without hurting anyone today outside Ismailia in the Suez canal area, a British military spokesman reported.

The shooting was said to have occurred at the Netisha bridge near a British anti-aircraft emplacement.

The spokesman said there had been a sharp increase of incidents between Egyptians and British troops, whose reinforced numbers are engaged tight to the vital Suez canal. Egypt has requested the United Nations to help the British to maintain defense of the East-West waterway.

Brockington Sued on Note Deals

Little Rock, Nov. 6 (AP) — A lawsuit has been filed in Pulaski county court charging that L. S. Brockington, who sought the discharge of his wife, was liable for the payment of $50,000 in promissory notes totaling $80,000.

The suit was filed yesterday by Mrs. Mary Malvey, widow of Dr. Tom Malvey, it said of Brockington and William E. Blum of the Ward-Hughes General Co., of Conway as defendants.

Mrs. Malvey's suit stated Brockington gave her husband a promissory note March 1, 1945, to secure $20,000 loan. She said that Brockington then transferred to Dr. Malvey an option on the Conway firm and secured him 300 shares of capital stock.

The complaint stated that a $30,000 promissory note, signed by Brockington and given to Brockington, was given as security.

Mrs. Malvey said that nothing has been paid on the interest or principal. She asked for judgment in the amount of the notes.

Higher Value on Stolen Jewelry

New York, Nov. 6 (AP) — British film actor James Mason's wife, Mrs. Mason, made an error — of $40,000 — in figuring the value of jewelry stolen Sunday night from their hotel suite.

Mrs. Mason said last night that a rehabilitation put the gems in her jewelry at $20,000 when it should have been $70,000. She said her Hollywood attorneys corrected her.

Negro Shot to Dies Trying to Escape

Easton, Fla., Nov. 7 (AP) — Samuel Shepherd, Negro, whose conviction on charges of raping a farm wife was reversed by the United States Supreme court, was shot to death last night by Sheriff Willis B. McCull.

His companion in the case, Walter Lee Irvin, was seriously wounded.

Sheriff McCull said he acted in self defense after the Negroes "jumped" him while he was transporting them in his motor car to a hearing on a retrial, a site which had been scheduled for today.

The rape case brought wide dissection two years ago in the Grove land area when "night riders" rode through the sector and burned Negro homes. The national guard was called out to restore order.

Shepherd and Irvin were sentenced to death on their conviction at a previous trial but the Supreme court directed that they be tried a second time.

A third Negro, Charles Greenlee, was sentenced to life imprisonment when a circuit court jury recommended mercy because of his youth. Greenlee's conviction was not appealed.

The supreme court ordered the new trial on the grounds that Negroes were discriminated against in selection of the jury.

A fourth Negro who was sought in connection with the case, Ernest Thomas, 26, was shot to death in west Florida.
